

ALLIED PLANES RAIN BLOWS ON JAP ARMADA OFF BANGKA

MacArthur Forces Score Gains Along Entire Bataan Line

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Japanese warplanes were reported today to have attacked Indian territory for the first time, twice bombing and machine-gunning the Andaman Islands in the Bay of Bengal, 350 miles southwest of Rangoon, Burma, on a vital United Nations supply route to China, Russia and the Far Pacific.

The raiders hit at Port Blair, chief port of one of the island group inhabited by ferocious warriors of pigmy descent.

Calcutta and other Indian cities have already taken precautionary measures against a possible Japanese attack.

In the battle of the Dutch East Indies, Allied bombers smashed at a new Japanese invasion armada off Bangka island amid indications that the badly mauled enemy was awaiting reinforcements before risking an all-out assault on the United Nations citadel of Java.

Bangka lies off the east coast of lower Sumatra, 270 miles north of Batavia.

Three Japanese planes bombed and machine-gunned Port Blair on Tuesday and Thursday, executing Japan's farthest thrust to the west since the war began.

The Andaman Islands are strategically important as a base for possible Japanese invasion of Ceylon or India.

In the Philippines, a bulletin from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said American and Filipino troops had scored gains of a half to five miles along the entire Bataan Peninsula front in the last 48 hours.

The communiqué said fighting between light forces on both sides continued to rage, with General MacArthur's men holding advance positions they wrested from the Japanese in a surprise attack.

Hard hit by shipping and plane losses, the Japanese made no claim of tightening the siege of Java, heart of the Dutch East Indies, where it was disclosed that "many thousands" of American, British and Australian troops were grimly and with some eagerness awaiting the invaders.

"Fight like wildcats and fight like hell" was the official slogan.

A bulletin from N. E. I. headquarters said there had been a noticeable slackening in Japanese air assaults during the past few days. It was apparent that the arrival of cannon-blasting American flying fortresses and other aerial reinforcements had at least tempered Japan's superiority in the skies.

Besides pounding Japanese ships off Bangka island, United Nations bombers also delivered a violent attack on military targets near Japanese-held Palembang in lower Sumatra, starting big fires.

Australia's air force struck anew at Japanese-occupied Rabaul, New Britain island, setting fire to wharves, shipping, military installations and airbases.

A Dutch communiqué said nine Japanese bombers raided the Allied naval base at Soerabaja, in western Java, but declared that "our fighters soon drove the enemy away" and all bombs fell in the sea.

90,000 GERMANS BELIVED CAUGHT IN SOVIET TRAP

Russians Breaking Down Stand of Survivors of 16th Army, Virtually Dooming Large Number of Divisions

SECOND FRONT URGED

By the Associated Press

Russia's armies opened fierce new attacks at both ends of the 1,200-mile battlefield today, lashing out from long-besieged Leningrad in the north and on the Crimea peninsula in the south, while Stockholm dispatches reported that Soviet cavalrymen had advanced to within 72 miles of the Latvian frontier.

Meanwhile, the German-controlled Paris radio said "it has been confirmed" that Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador in Vichy, had demanded that all movements of the still powerful French fleet receive prior authorization from the United States.

On the Russian front, Soviet dispatches from the flaming Staraya Russa battle zone reported that the Red armies were breaking down the stand of trapped survivors of the German 16th army, virtually dooming division after division of the encircled Nazis.

Heavy battles were reported raging around Novgorod, key German base on Lake Ilmen 100 miles southeast of Leningrad.

A bulletin from Red army headquarters said the Russians, apparently striking to divert Nazi resources from going to the relief of 90,000 Germans reported trapped south of Lake Ilmen, in the Staraya Russa sector, destroyed 11 blockhouses and 30 gun emplacements and dugouts, and killed 2,500 Germans in a three-day battle.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that the Russians were attacking fiercely on the Sevastopol and Kerch fronts, in the Crimea, but asserted that German and Rumanian troops had repulsed them with heavy losses.

The Russian plea for opening of a second front to capitalize Red army gains against Adolf Hitler's war machine was laid anew before the Allies by Ambassador Maxim M. Litvinoff last night with a declaration that victory might be won "by the summer."

Hitler stakes all his hopes on a spring offensive, Litvinoff told the Overseas Press club in New York. A Berlin dispatch received via (Turn to Page Six)

BAY OF BENGAL ISLAND RAIDED

London, Feb. 27.—(P)—In Japan's farthest blow to the west since the start of the war, three Japanese planes have bombed and machine-gunned Port Blair in the Andaman Islands, in the Bay of Bengal, 350 miles southwest of Rangoon, the All India radio reported today.

The raids took place Tuesday and Thursday.

A Rangoon communiqué on the defense of Burma reported no change on the land front, but said Allied air forces—British and American volunteer fliers—"have been very active in reconnaissance and bombing raids over enemy-occupied territory."

The report on Burma indicated the outnumbered defense forces still held out along the west bank of the Sittoung river guarding the way to Rangoon.

The Japanese were being bolstered by a steady flow of reinforcements from Malaya.

Heavy bombs by the British and American fliers, credited with knocking out at least 35 Japanese planes yesterday, and the day before, helped the defense stand by keeping Japanese planes from winning control in the air for intensive support of their ground troops.

Inter-Allied Information Committee Declares That Occupied Nations Are Being Systematically Pillaged by Nazis For Food For Germany Causing Famine

500,000 DEATHS ARE PREDICTED IN GREECE

London, Feb. 27.—(P)—Famine and starvation are facing the occupied countries of Europe, which are being systematically pillaged by the Nazis to provide food for the German people and their armies, the inter-allied information committee declared today.

While hundreds of thousands in conquered lands are undergoing untold hardships, the Germans themselves are so well fed, the committee said, that in some countries they are the principal suppliers of black markets—the illegal food centers where fantastic prices are charged for staples which only a few can buy.

Ironically, dispatches from Switzerland reported the Germans were taking increasingly drastic measures to stamp out illicit trading in food and clothing. Five persons were said to have been executed in Germany or German occupied territory during the past week for such offenses, and heavy fines and imprisonment were being meted out to others.

The inter-allied committee, which represents every Allied nation in London, said the German pillaging program, "masquerading as purchase," probably would bring starvation to 500,000 in Greece alone before winter ended.

Conditions in other occupied nations covered by the report included:

Belgium—Food situation "simply terrifying," with more than half the school children in towns going without breakfast.

Poland—"Essentially a self-supporting and agricultural country," its rural residents "have been reduced to boiling down the bark of trees and the skins of dead animals."

The Netherlands—"There is a serious deterioration in the food situation."

Norway—German airmen and many German expectant mothers eat in well-stocked German restaurants, buy at special German counters in Oslo stores. "Norwegians are served at other counters, which are mostly empty."

Yugoslavia—"Inflation in its worst form flourishes," with Germans requisitioning all foodstuffs they can lay their hands on, pay (Turn to Page Six)

PRODUCTION TO BE SPEEDED UP BY 30 PER CENT

Washington, Feb. 27.—(P)—Administration leaders disclosed today that a 30 per cent increase in war production had been charted for the next four months in a progressive speedup that is expected to boost military expenditures to nearly $5,000,000,000 monthly by the end of the year.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), floor manager for a $2,762,737,900 military money bill pending before the senate, said the appropriations committee had been informed that a total of $12,681,000,000 would be spent for war purposes in the five-month period from January 31 to June 30. This would compare, he said, with $16,000,000,000 spent from July 1, 1940, up to February 1, 1942.

The treasury reported that national defense expenditures for January were approximately $2,100,000,000 and this amount would have to be raised to an average of $2,737,000,000 for February and the next four months, or an increase of 30 per cent, in order to attain the new goal.

(Price Administrator Leon Henderson, speaking in New York last night, said that 1942 war production would be 30 per cent higher.)

DEMAND ON VICHY IS CLAIMED IN BERLIN

London, Feb. 27.—(P)—The German-controlled Paris radio said today "it has been confirmed" that Admiral William D. Leahy, United States ambassador in Vichy, has demanded that all movements of the French fleet should receive prior authorization from the United States.

The Vichy government, the radio added, has rejected "this intolerable demand."

The radio said "it is rumored" in American circles in Vichy that in protest against the Vichy government's refusal of his suggestion, Admiral Leahy will leave his post and United States representation will be left to S. Pinckney Tuck, counselor of embassy.

London, Feb. 27.—(P)—The British admiralty announced today that the former American destroyer Belmont has been sunk.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 27.—(P)—Baron Fritz von Opel, wealthy yachtsman and son of a German car manufacturer, was arrested early today and his winter residence here searched by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Cairo, Feb. 27.—(P)—British patrols are continuing their scouting in the Libyan desert despite bad weather and sandstorms, the Middle East high command reported today.

FIELD NARROWS DOWN

Harrisburg, Feb. 27.—(P)—The Democratic state committee today rejected a move to suspend the party rule requiring it to state candidates for governor and other state offices at the May primary.

The committee recessed until 7 p. m. tonight. State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner sought to have the committee recess until March 14 but State Chairman Meredith Meyers ruled it out of order. Wagner said he would present it again tonight.

"FLYING TIGERS" ACTIVE IN BURMA

Mandalay, Burma, Feb. 26.—(Delayed)—(P)—The defense of Rangoon Wednesday, which American volunteer "flying tigers" and RAF Hurricane pilots destroyed 27 Japanese planes surely and seven more probably, beat off the raiders in their biggest daylight air assault in Burma so far.

Such a raid had been expected and the defense was a carefully prepared surprise for the enemy. (Official figures previously had placed the Japanese losses Wednesday at 30 planes.)

The American volunteer group under squadron leader Bob Neale of Seattle, Wash., had been ready for two weeks for just such a mass attack as the Japanese finally launched.

Their spike-nosed Tomahawk fighter planes had been detailed specifically to Rangoon's defense.

MAJORITY CLAIMED IN HOUSE

Advocates of Wartime Suspension of Some Provisions of Labor Bill Run Into Opposition of Roosevelt Administration Leadership But Predict Passage

REDUCTION IN PAY ENVELOPES FEARED

Washington, Feb. 27.—(P)—Advocates of a wartime suspension of the 40-hour week and overtime bonuses ran into the opposition of the Roosevelt administration leadership today, but clung to their claims that a majority of the house would vote prompt support of suspension.

Administration leaders on Capitol Hill said the outcome depended on how the Republicans lined up on the proposal to make the suspension a part of a pending war powers bill.

Downtown, President Roosevelt spoke disapprovingly of the idea of attaching what he called riders that ought to be voted to measures which cannot be voted.

Sponsors of the amendment to suspend the laws for a 40-hour week and time-and-a-half overtime pay for the duration of the war have contended that their proposal is germane in the war powers bill, which covers several subjects.

It was learned from a high administration official that the government thinks the general effect of this amendment would be principally to eliminate payment for overtime and that this would apply in non-defense industries as well as in war industries.

It was made plain that the administration disapproved the amendment to abandon the 40-hour week chiefly because it felt that it would mean a reduction of the sum in many pay envelopes.

Replying to questions, Mr. Roosevelt said he had formulated no policy as yet on mobilization of man power for war production and did not know when he would do so.

At the same time, the senate labor committee, confronted with (Turn to Page Six)

LITVINOFF SAYS ALLIES SHOULD STRIKE IN SPRING

New York, Feb. 27.—(P)—Simultaneous United Nations attacks on two or more widely separated fronts this spring would destroy Hitler by summer, in the opinion of Maxim Litvinoff, Russian ambassador to the United States.

Only by this strategy, and by continuing to supply Russia with materials for the eastern front, he told the Overseas Press Club last night, could the Allies "dispose of" the whole Axis.

In his first public address since taking his post in Washington, the Soviet diplomat called on Russia's allies not to miss this opportunity to beat Hitler to the punch with a widespread springtime offensive.

"He (Hitler) is preparing for a spring offensive," Litvinoff said, "and he thoroughly understands the importance of the eastern campaign, which should settle not merely his own fate but also that of the whole Axis."

"He knows that either he will win this campaign, and win all, or he will lose it and lose all. We should like our allies and friends to see this as clearly as Hitler does, and to act accordingly."

He said Russia would like to see all the Allied forces put into action by spring where they could be used best, and military materials sent to the places where most needed.

SHIP AFIRE OFF JERSEY COAST

Belmar, N. J., Feb. 27.—(P)—The Belmar police reported sighting a ship afire about five miles offshore early today, and coast guard vessels from both New York and New Jersey stations put out to the rescue.

Police Sergeant William Breden said he was on oceanfront patrol at 12:40 a. m. (EWT) when he saw "a big wall of fire that shot about 2500 feet into the air" arising from the vessel.

Thousands of coast residents saw the blazing ship, which, silhouetted in its own flames, appeared to be a tanker, drift slowly northward to a point about halfway between the shore and the horizon.

Hoarded Sugar Being Sold Back to Grocers

New York, Feb. 27.—(P)—Large chain and independent food stores reported today that the housewife-with-a-conscience has been reselling her hoarded sugar to the grocers to help ease the shortage.

Seven large chain-store companies said they were co-operating in the "sugar-sell-it-back" campaign suggested by Leon Henderson, price control administrator, by instructing their managers to buy the sugar back at current retail prices.

NIPPONESE WAR PROPAGANDA IS FAR FROM TRUE

Officials in Washington Much Amused by Some Of the Extravagant Claims That Are Made in Japan

CARRIER A GHOST SHIP

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Feb. 27.—(P)—If you wish to think of war as a game, the Japanese would be far along today on the road to final victory.

A large section of the west coast would be a shambles, the Pacific fleet would be little more than a memory and the native peoples everywhere in the western Pacific would be welcoming the Nipponese invaders with garlands of flowers instead of bullets and bombs.

That, at least, is the broad outline of the radio propaganda picture which Tokyo has been painting since the beginning of the war.

Presumably for a public it hopes it has in the United States and other United Nations.

The serious purpose of the broadcast claims, officials said today, is to create questioning, uncertainty, lack of confidence and suspicion in this country.

Officials have been amused by some of the extravagant Japanese claims.

For example, soon after war began they reported that San Francisco was in flames from bombing.

The aircraft carrier Lexington has become a sort of ghost ship for the Japanese. They have "sunk" her several times.

OIL SUPPLIES FOR HEATING OF HOMES IS LOW

Washington, Feb. 27.—(P)—The petroleum coordination office reported today that supplies of oil for heating homes in the east were "dangerously low" and called for use of all suitable tanker ships to haul the needed oil as well as increased movement of domestic heating oil eastward by rail.

Tankers now hauling gasoline from Gulf ports to the eastern seaboard should be used to haul fuel oil if they are suitable, Ralph (Turn to Page Six)

Britain Taking "Appalling Risks" Viscount Halifax Says

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—(P)—Great Britain has taken appalling "risks with the safety" of the home front to help her Allies in other theaters of war, says Viscount Halifax.

The British ambassador to the United States, replying to accusations that his country "leaves the fighting to her friends," told the American Academy of Political and Social Science last night.

"In 1941, we got 2,000 aircraft from this country, but we sent more than 9,000 overseas. We imported 200 tanks, but sent abroad 2,000."

In addition, he went on, RAF daylight sweeps over western Europe last summer, designed to draw from the Russian front as many enemy planes as possible, cost the empire half as many fighter planes as was lost in the whole of the battle for Britain in 1940.

STRATEGY MAPPED IN AUSTRALIA

Greatest War Planning Conference Ever Held There Convenes With Commonwealth War Council Meeting in Secret Session With Allied Nations Advisers

TALKS WILL CONTINUE UNTIL FIRST OF WEEK

Melbourne, Feb. 27.—(P)—The greatest war planning conference ever held in Australia convened today with the Commonwealth War Council meeting in secret session with high advisers from the Allied Nations to shape a new offensive strategy based on the possibility of imminent Japanese attack on this continent.

Laid before the meeting were the plans on which Australian and Allied strategists have been working for days plans for ultimate heavy offensive strokes as well as the guarding of Australia's shores.

(Exchanging 'Telegraph' agency quoted authoritative Melbourne quarters as saying the conference may mark the launching of an almost immediate Allied offensive.)

Even as the council met forces of the invaders were poised on outlying Australian territory—the islands of New Guinea and New Britain. Australian airmen, continuing their blows at the massive Japanese, raided the captured New Britain port of Rabaul last night, five bombing ships, buildings and airbases.

The Melbourne Herald said the war council's talks would continue over the week-end, but predicted a quick decision on defensive and offensive moves.

It reported that the government declined to accept the view of some observers that the Japanese were more likely to concentrate on their thrust into Burma than to strike at Australia as soon as the Netherlands Indies could be subdued.

The Herald added that "unfortunately, information received here shows that continued resistance on Java cannot long be expected."

(There have been reports that one of the decisions before the War Council is whether to send major Australian forces to help hold Java or to hold all available troops for a fight on the home shores.)

"The fact is well known in Japan," the Herald said, "that Australia is destined to become a gigantic base for the Allied counter-offensive."

NEWBORN GIRL BABIES JOINED FACE TO FACE

New York, Feb. 27.—(P)—Science sought an answer today to the questions whether two newborn girl babies must spend their lives joined together face to face or whether the knife could rectify nature's phenomenon.

Although an operation to separate the Siamese twins is contemplated, Dr. Peter Timponio, who delivered them yesterday to Mrs. Jessie Piccolito, 25, said that at least 10 days would be needed for X-rays and other examinations to determine how closely their organs and circulatory systems were connected.

The twins, christened Joan and Vincenza, weighed nine pounds, four ounces together.

MOTHER SLAYS SLEEPING GIRL

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 17.—A mother worrying over her 14-year-old daughter's dates with boys shot and killed the sleeping girl today, Detective Sgt. Earl O'Clair said.

Mrs. Inogene Martin, 49, shot her daughter Wilma, pretty high school sophomore, three times in the back, O'Clair reported.

The detective sergeant said he learned that Mrs. Martin arose from a bed she shared with her daughter, obtained a pistol from a dresser drawer and fired at close range. The husband and father, Sam Martin, real estate salesman, was sleeping in the same room. He was awakened by the shots.

"You can't do anything with her... I have just shot her," Mrs. Martin told her husband.

O'Clair said he was told by a Bob Bell, 16, that his mother had not been well; was concerned over reports that young people "keep fast company," and was anxious to protect her only daughter.

SCHOOL BOARD AND COUNCIL TO HOLD MEETINGS

Both the Warren borough council and the local board of school directors will hold regular meetings on Monday night as scheduled, despite the black-out scheduled here for that night. However, both will be of a routine nature and are expected to be concluded before the start of the black-out. The school directors have set their meeting ahead from 7:30 to 7 o'clock in order to be finished with their business before the black-out starts. While the council will meet at the regular time, 7:30, it is planned to finish well ahead of the time set for turning out the lights. Only the opening of bids for a new police car looms as outstanding in this session.

McKenney On Bridge

LEAD FROM SOLID
SEQUENCE MAY GAIN
THIRD-ROUND TRICK

BY WILLIAM MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
At the outset of this series of articles on opening leads, I said that there are two questions to be answered: First, what suit should I open? Second, having decided on the suit, which card should I lead?

The articles have discussed the second question in full. Here we find the leads standardized by practice dating back to the earliest days of auction bridge.

But when we turn to the first question, what suit to open, we find it impossible to lay down rules. Bridge would be a much easier game if we could always find the best lead (the lead we would choose if we could see all four hands) from the sight of one hand and inferences from the bidding. All that we can do here is to point out some of the factors that the leader should weigh in making his choice.

One factor is a principle important in all defense, caution: in cashing aces and kings. These high cards held by the defense often stand in the way of the declarer's developing enough tricks for his contract. They give the defense time to attack the declarer's weakness, and therefore should not be led out without careful consideration.

In today's hand, West might lead the king of hearts in order to "take a look at dummy," as the saying goes. But this look would give the declarer his contract against any defense.

In clubs West has a solid sequence that can develop a third-round trick. West should open the queen of clubs to develop this trick before his ace and king of hearts are forced out.

CLARION RIVER DAM IS OPPOSED IN PITTSBURGH

Construction of the proposed hydro-electric and flood control dam on the Clarion river would be an "impractical extravagance" and provide only an "insignificant contribution" to flood control, it was charged today by directors of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce in a resolution.

As an alternative, the directors recommended the "earliest possible construction" of the proposed flood control dam on the Conemaugh river.

They declared the Clarion river dam would mean "the virtual destruction" of Cook state forest, inundating more than 1,000 acres of the preserve which the directors included the largest remaining tract of virgin timber in the eastern part of the United States.

Ralph C. Edgar, flood control representative of the Pittsburgh Chamber, said a confidential report and survey of the proposed Clarion river dam has been submitted to the War Department but no legislation for its construction has been drafted.

SIX FIRST AID TEAMS QUALIFY IN COMETITION

Nine Boy Scout first aid teams met at Sugar Grove last night in first aid competition which netted six of them honors as "standard first aid teams". To attain the standard it was necessary to have a score of 90% on the three problems used in the contest.

The program opened with the presentation of colors by Troop 17, Sugar Grove, followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. F. A. Schoonover, general chairman, explained the purpose of the contest and R. L. Endress, chief judge, gave the rules to be followed throughout the evening.

The problems selected for last night's contest included treatment of cuts, arterial bleeding, fractures, burns and stoppage of breathing. At the conclusion of the contest R. L. Endress conducted a demonstration pointing out mistakes that were made during the evening while the Explorer Scouts of Troop 2 under the leadership of Paul J. Reynolds showed the assembled group a series of emergency service techniques.

Teams from the following troops qualified and will receive special recognition: Troop 4, Jefferson, P. T. A.; Troop 27, Tidoute; Troop 14, Russell; Troop 16, Lander, and Troop 13, North Warren.

Tonight's contest will be held at the Sheffield High School gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock, with fifteen teams expected to enter.

MANY ENROLLED IN PENN STATE COURSES HERE

Emergency management and defense training classes, conducted by the extension department of the Pennsylvania State College, are now under way at the Warren High School with more than one hundred persons enrolled. It was announced today by Alfred Maurer, local representative of the school.

The number now taking the courses is about fifty percent above the average. Mr. Maurer said, and indicates much interest by the people of this community. At the same time it was announced that college authorities have given permission for late registrations in one course—Foundations of Engineering I. This course includes mathematics through trigonometry and physics, both treated in a practical manner.

Those wishing to register for this course may do so next Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the high school.

It would cost the nation more than $50,000,000,000 and soar to at least $75,000,000,000 in 1943. Because of the vast outlay necessary Henderson predicted the "level of living" in the United States would sink quickly below the lowest point of the last depression.

Joan Fontaine And Gary Cooper Receive Top Awards in Movies

Hollywood, Feb. 27.—(P)—Joan Fontaine and Gary Cooper were given gold statuettes as the outstanding actress and actor of 1941 at the movies' first wartime awards meeting today.

Miss Fontaine won for her portrayal of a woman who lived in constant fear that her husband would kill her. The picture was "Suspicion," produced by RKO. Cooper was acclaimed for his role as the World War's No. 1 hero, Sergeant (Alvin) York in the Warner Bros. picture of that name. Miss Fontaine lost a bet to Wendell Willkie, speaker of the evening, who wagered $25 to her $10 that she would win. She paid off promptly. Other nominees for the best actress were her sister, Olivia De Havilland; Bette Davis, already a two-time winner; Greer Garson and Barbara Stanwyck.

Warren movie goers will be interested to learn that Joan Fontaine's picture "Suspicion," which won for her the Academy Picture award in Hollywood, is being shown today and tomorrow at the Library theatre here.

Other male nominees were Orson Welles, Cary Grant, Walter Huston and Robert Montgomery. Twentieth Century-Fox won the best picture award for the first time since the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences began giving Oscars in 1928. The film was "How Green Was My Valley" and it won major honors for two of the men who helped make it great. John Ford, now a lieutenant commander in the navy, was awarded a gold statuette for his directorial work on the film, selected from Richard Llewellyn's best-selling book. Ford also won best directing Oscars in 1935 and 1940 for "The Informer" and "Grapes of Wrath."

Donald Crisp's work in "How Green Was My Valley" won him the award for the year's best male supporting role. Mary Astor was proclaimed best supporting actress for Warner Bros. "The Great Lie." Lieut. Jimmy Stewart, in uniform, and Ginger Rogers, who won

CANDIDATES FOR NOMINATION AT PRIMARY START CIRCULATION OF PETITIONS IN STATE TOMORROW

With Pennsylvania's political pot starting to boil merrily, the 1942 campaign will get under way officially tomorrow when candidates for nomination at the May 19 primary may start to circulate their petitions.

While several state offices are to be filled this year, local interest in Warren county will center in the election of a state senator, an assemblyman and committeemen of the Democratic and Republican parties.

Terms of both State Senator L. E. Chapman, representing Warren and Venango counties, and Assemblyman William Muir, representing Warren county, expire this year.

Senator Chapman said today that he had not decided whether he will be a candidate for re-election.

Assemblyman Muir has announced that he will run again and that circulation of his nomination petitions will be started tomorrow.

Throughout the state, voters will ballot for a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, 33 congressmen, one supreme and one superior court judge and memberships in both parties' state committees, 208 assemblymen and 25 state senators.

For the first time, the voters of Warren county will be casting their ballots for a congressman to represent a new district set up in Harrisburg by the legislature this week.

ANNUAL INDOOR CARNIVAL TO BE HELD MARCH 6

Students of the Warren High School, with the aid of several faculty members, will present their fifth annual indoor carnival in the high school building on Friday evening, March 6, and from all reports it promises to be an evening of real fun for all who attend. The program being prepared to give everyone an enjoyable occasion they'll not soon forget is chockful of entertaining retreats where everyone can cast aside his worries and grow younger as the evening progresses. Side shows, midway, bingo, sample fair, and other attractions blend in perfectly with such features as the annual gym and auditorium shows and a new presentation, a musical comedy entitled "Nutz to You", which is a sequel to "Pelza Hop-pin", last year's offering that left all who saw it practically rolling in the aisles with laughter. "Nutz to You," written by Harry Summers instrumental instructor of the Warren schools is a musical comedy that fills the space of slightly better than half an hour with frolic from beginning to end. It's guaranteed not to have a lull, and the enlightening script for this show tops anything ever before offered. The sample fair, always a highlight at the carnival, has gained the special attention of this year's committee and promises to be bigger and better than at any time previous. Other years have seen the huge supplies of samples exhausted early in the evening, so the committee has stocked up with even greater amounts of attractive articles in an effort to give more people an opportunity to enjoy this part of the show. Under the direction of Miss Kahn, who each year in the past has come up with a highly commended performance, the auditorium show is also sure to meet with the approval of the public. These, and many other things will keep everyone occupied with the sole purpose of having a good time next Friday night. It is reminded that special tickets are being sold in advance for this year's carnival to be exchanged at the door for stubs of tickets to be used in gaining admission to the shows, or for games to be found at the midway. With each advance ticket two ducats for the door prize will also be given, and it is warned that no one can enter the carnival without the peach-colored pastebord that will be offered the public on the streets about town all next week.

K. Davies, deputy petroleum co-ordinator, advised the 15 companies supplying east coast markets.

The east last week was placed under a rigid system of curtailed heating oil deliveries, with no domestic or industrial user allowed to get more fuel while their tanks are more than one-fifth full.

Over 1,250,000 dwellings in the east use oil for heating.

Davies said that tankers transferred from the gasoline to the domestic heating oil service should be kept in it until the home heating supply was assured for the remaining approximately five weeks of the season.

Davies gave no estimate of the probable effect on the east's gasoline supplies by diversion of ships and rail cars to larger movements of heating oils.

She explained the service which welcomes newcomers to Warren, how it is sponsored and what it does to make the newcomer feel himself a part of the community. She stated that 118 calls had been made in the past year.

Dem. Chairman Takes Stand on Open Primary

ed squarely before the Democratic state committee today in a resolution to suspend a party rule requiring the committee to endorse a slate of candidates.

With the field of declared or potential candidates narrowed to three — Judge Ralph H. Smith, Auditor General F. Clair Ross and Dr. Luther A. Harr, the committee was called upon by H. G. Andrews, of Johnstown, to suspend the rule. A vigorous debate developed on the motion.

State Chairman Meredith Meyers, opening the meeting, called for an open primary as the only "adequate solution" when leaders disagree. Pointing to the Democratic registration, Meyers said: "There is a lot of patriotism, a lot of horse sense, a lot of real democracy scattered around among the more than 2,000,000 Democrats."

"When controversial issues arise, when leaders disagree, when there is need for calm and sober second thought, when we are selecting candidates who will represent more than 2,000,000 members of our party democracy offers but one adequate solution, and that solution is: 'Let the people speak.'"

Final conferences of party leaders narrowed the field of declared or potential candidates for governor to three, Judge Ralph H. Smith, backed by U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey; Dr. Luther A. Harr, supported by Meyers, and Auditor General F. Clair Ross, friendly with David L. Lawrence, Democratic national committee-man.

Lined up with Meyers on the open primary issue was U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey. Both are members of a group of 20 leaders which decided last night to ask the state committee to take no action for two weeks while they talked over the chances of uniting behind one candidate.

Opposing this stand was National Committeeman David L. Lawrence, who wants the committee to stick by its rule and endorse one slate in the May 19 primary.

the former vicerey endorsed the demands for a definite national labor policy, called an executive session to discuss with Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board whether such a policy was needed.

The house faced its most important decision on a labor question since it voted overwhelmingly in early December for the bill of Rep. Smith (D-Va.) outlawing jurisdictional strikes, freezing the closed shop issue for the duration, and providing for registration of unions. That measure still is awaiting action in the senate labor committee.

Smith yesterday also offered the proposal to suspend the 40-hour week, by an amendment to the second war powers bill. His plan stirred up such heated debate that administration leaders put off a vote until today to let tempers cool.

Plans are going forward for the promotion of Victory Gardens in Warren county under the sponsorship of the County Defense Council's Victory Garden Committee, headed by Edward W. Johnson, it was announced today.

Every person in the county who is interested in assisting with this project is being invited to enroll as soon as possible.

In connection with this effort, Governor Arthur H. James has stated that "greatly increased food needs for our armed forces, our allies, and our urban population will require a considerable increase in supplies of certain commercially grown foods, notably tomatoes, peas and green beans."

He pointed out that the national Victory Garden program has been inaugurated to insure an adequate supply of these or other vegetables for the civilian population. This program is being carried out through committees organized by the councils of defense in the state to stimulate and supervise the planting of farm, home, school and community gardens.

"Since the garden program can contribute vitally to the health and strength of our citizens during wartime," the governor said, "it is desirable that a Home Garden Enrollment week be set aside in Pennsylvania during which our citizens, particularly on farms and in suburban and rural communities, can offer their participation." "I, therefore, urge that those citizens of Pennsylvania who have suitable ground and garden facilities enroll during the week of February 23 to 28 with their local Victory Garden committee so that planting of these gardens can go forward without delay in the early spring."

"While conservation of seeds and other garden supplies will be upmost in garden planning, there is need for enrollment of inexperienced gardeners and those lacking suitable ground to take part in community gardens under expert guidance."

"Gardens can go far in Pennsylvania to help meet increased living costs, conserve war-burden-

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

REDUCTION FOR TRAVELING EXPENSES

To obtain a reduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days away from home during the taxable year on account of business, total amount of expense incidental to meals and lodging, and total amount of "other expenses" incident to travel and claimed as a deduction. Among the "expenses" are tips, provided they are reasonable in amount.

Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business. They are limited to such expenses as are reasonable and necessary in the conduct of the business and directly attributable to it.

Traveling expenses incurred in connection with a journey to another city to accept or seek employment are not deductible. Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation, it being a personal expense.

Claims for deduction for traveling expenses must be substantiated when required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, showing in detail the amount and nature of the expense incurred.

JAVA -- Where Our Side Battles to Turn Tide

BRITISH Gen. Sir Archibald Percival Wavell, 58, commander of United Nations forces in Far East, looks with apprehension toward Java.

HIGH ON A PLATEAU in the mountains of Java is Bandoeng, truly the citadel of the East Indies. Here is the hub of allied military action in the Dutch islands—air bases, military encampments, guns, oil, ammunition, food, supplies for a long siege. If Batavia, and even the Soerabaja naval base, should fall, the fight would still be far from over on Java. In the equatorial hills that cover that island's southern section, Dutch, American and Australian forces may yet make a defiant stand like that of MacArthur on Bataan.

THIS IS HOW war swept through the Indies until Java was ringed by Japs. Enemy's strategy was to thrust forward a few hundred miles, establish air and sea bases, then attack points farther on within range of these new bases. Cost was great to the invaders, in men and ships; it was also high for the defenders, in land lost and in oil properties destroyed.

DUTCH PUT THE TORCH to the oil of the Indies when Japs invaded. Great blazes and blasts, long prepared for with installations of explosives, swept through the forests of derricks, pumps, storage tanks and refineries even as the enemy parachuted out of the sky and landed on nearby beaches. First to go was the oil of Saravak, destroyed by the British; then followed Tarakan, Balikpapan and Palembang, as the Dutch scorched earth with the hottest of fires,

OUT OF THE NORTH a relentless Japanese armada forced its way down into the Indies, through bombs, shells and torpedoes, past the Philippines, Borneo, Celebes and Bali to the very shores of Java. At Davao, Dutch and U. S. planes struck hard at massing enemy vessels. But Jap warships and transports sailed 100 strong into Macassar Strait, where half their number were sunk or damaged and thousands of soldiers died in the sea. On Bali's idyllic beaches scores more ships of the rising sun sank into the Java Sea. Allied bombers roared over enemy transports; U. S. destroyers matched their guns with Jap warships; Dutch subs dispatched torpedoes to stem the flow of the Yellow Tide.

Funeral services in memory of Harry D. Atherton, who was found dead yesterday morning at his home, about three miles from Sanford in Eldred township, will be held from the Centerville Methodist church at 2 p. m. Saturday, with interment in Sunnyside cemetery.

Mr. Atherton was born in Centerville, May 27, 1870, and spent his early life there. He held positions of public trust in the borough and later engaged in railroading, holding positions in McKeesport and in several western states. He purchased the farm near Sanford about 20 years ago. He is survived by a brother, A. Atherton, of Titusville; a sister, Mrs. B. F. Van Guilder, of Athens township, Crawford county, and several nieces and nephews.

Soldier Evangelism Will Be Subject of Talk Here Thursday

Rev. Gilbert L. Howe, chairman of the soldier evangelism work at Indian town Gap, will return to Warren on Thursday, March 5, for a service at the Church of the Nazarene at seven-thirty o'clock. He was a committee of men from Grove City and vicinity, founded the Soldiers' Gospel Center, three-quarters of a mile south of Indian town Gap. Beginning as an open tabernacle, sides were later constructed, a flag pole erected, and a large flood-light sign placed on the roof. A steam heating system has now been installed, and a public address arrangement makes it possible for those who do not come in to hear the gospel in song and testimony.

Rev. Howe is an intensely interesting speaker, and his presentation of the work of soldier evangelism will not soon be forgotten by those who hear him. All are welcome to this service. Prospective selectees and parents of service boys are especially urged to attend. A freewill offering will be taken for soldier evangelism.

DANGEROUS BAGGAGE

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 27 Prisoner

FOR several moments, the two men stood at the rail listening to the sound of the Ladybird's motors drawing close and ever closer. Sharon, pinioned to the seat behind them by the new fears that crowded into her mind now, could only wonder what kind of devilish plan they were concocting.

There was no question but that in a few minutes, the Ladybird would pass them. By the sound, she would be so near that, for the fog, each could have identified the other easily.

Then turned to Sharon. All the scoffing salinity of the past few moments was gone from his voice now. He spoke coldly, almost threateningly. And as if she were a perfect stranger—and a convicted criminal!

"Do not forget that you are my prisoner. You are forbidden to make any effort to contact the enemy. If you act in any way so as to endanger the life of my crew or myself, or to give information to the enemy, I shall proceed with my duty as I see it. You are on your honor. Is that understood?"

Sharon nodded, her voice blocked by the sharp lump in her throat.

"Good. Then, until you oblige me to do otherwise, I see no reason for denying you the freedom of this boat. Should my trust be misplaced," he said, grimly, "my duty would come before my personal inclination to leniency. This is war, don't forget. I can take no chances. Move over on your part."

Sharon's temper rose to the challenge. "Must you talk like the villain of a dime novel?" she demanded furiously. "I have ordinary intelligence, believe it or not. And I understand you perfectly. You are merely trying to say that if I see a chance to do my duty as I see it, you would take steps to put me out of your way."

"Exactly," he said dryly. "Nothing fatal, you understand," with a ghost of his old smile, "just uncomfortable."

"I appreciate your consideration," she said.

"Good. I'm glad we understand each other."

Martens turned from his post near the rail. "They will pass us off our starboard in a few minutes, sir."

"Good. Sure there are no lights showing?"

The muffled throb of the engines drew closer. Tom went back to the rail. So intent on the craft passing not a boat's length away, he seemed to have forgotten her. Now was her chance. Honor or no honor—Tom himself said this was a war!

Leaping to her feet, Sharon screamed. Every last shred of energy she had she poured into that supreme effort.

"Help! Goodwin, help!"

Tom was upon her instantly, smothering that scream, lifting her in his powerful arms, carrying her to the companionway.

Fighting, kicking, flaying him with her fists, Sharon fought so hard as to make every one of her Irish ancestors proud. But she might as well have battered a stone wall.

Held in the vise of his arms, she felt him leap down the short companionway, along a passageway, to a cabin. Kicking the door shut behind him, he set her free.

Then, still holding her wrists firmly with one hand, he thrust her toward what proved to be a bunk. "Sit there," he commanded. "Sorry—but you asked for this."

Gagged

EVEN as he spoke, she knew what he would do. The click of handcuffs around her wrists, a firm loop around her ankles, his own handkerchief across her mouth, efficiently tight.

"Hope you're not too uncomfortable. That bunk's clean. You needn't be afraid to lie down. And," dryly, "don't waste any energy trying to get loose. Goodwin himself couldn't have gotten out of that pair of bracelets."

She heard him go, then, closing the door sharply behind him, grating the key in the lock. A prisoner, again—and this time it was no joke!

Exhausted, she sagged back into the bunk. Maybe, if she closed her eyes, this whole horrible business would turn out to be a ghastly nightmare. But, a moment later, when she opened her eyes again, it was still pitch dark, there was still the soft clapping of the water against the boat, and the engine that they were leaving the quiet smoothness of the bay for the deep swells of the ocean. Swells that became increasingly rough as they pushed on, slapping against the bow, shaking the whole length of the boat.

When she thought she could not bear it another moment, Sharon heard footsteps cross the deck above her, descend the companionway. A key turned in the lock and the door opened to admit a feeble beam of light.

"The Boss says I can untie you now, miss." It was Martens.

Switching on a small ship's lamp, he pulled a key from his pocket, unfastened her handcuffs. Then, as he released the gag, he warned:

"No more of your tricks, sister. The Boss was easy on you this time. And you might have done some real damage, you know."

"Naturally. That's what I'd hoped to do," she said with lips that were dry, almost numb.

"Well, I don't know why you didn't succeed." He shook his head. Then, as if sensing her discomfort, he went into the ship's galley just forward, drew her a glass of water. "Thirsty, ain't you?"

"Thank you," Sharon gulped the cool water gratefully.

"Now look, sissy, the big man said, almost kindly. You forget all your sniffling and get some sleep. You look all in and there ain't nothing you can do now."

"Where are we?"

"Heading straight out into the blue Pacific, sissy. And a fancy headwind, too. We left fog back there in the bay so thick you could eat it with a spoon."

Picked up his flashlight, moved to the door. "Now we're heading straight into the sweetest little gale you're apt to see around here. I'll leave you a little light so you won't get lonesome."

"Listen, please," Sharon called after him. "Are we still following them?"

"Well, we are. What did you think we'd do, sissy? Give 'em the 'all clear' and kiss 'em goodbye?"

"But surely they know they are being followed?"

"Surely they don't, sissy. First it was fog—now it's wind. We're keeping our distance so they can't hear nothing."

"Where are we going?"

He shrugged. "Timbuctoo, maybe. Never know, in this game."

He closed the door, locked it.

New Hope

SHARON climbed out of the bunk, stretched aching muscles. She passed the narrow cabin bristly until circulation flooded back again. Four bunks, the cabin boasted, two to a side. Two huge lockers, a table and four chairs. A door opening into—she stepped inside—a tiny galley. And everything simple, plain but ship-shape. And comfortable enough. For a prison, she might have done worse. She thought wryly and went back to her bunk.

She could hear the gale outside now. And the smashing blows of the waves breaking over the boat. What, she wondered wearily, if Tom and Martens and whatever other worthies he had aboard this boat, found themselves unequal to one of the Pacific's really bad storms?

The boat lifted, shuddered violently, then lunged forward as if to give point to her thought. Sharon pressed her hands against her throbbing temples, found that her cheeks were wet with tears.

And now she made no effort to hold them back. So worried about Dennis, who might be the excitement of the past few days, so aware now of the serious danger she was in herself, she sobbed despairingly. And there was nothing—absolutely nothing she could do to alter the situation.

Burying her face in the thick blanket, she let go of long racking sobs that wracked her whole body. Until, her angry despair spent, she lay, hiccoughing like a tired child, one hand under her flushed cheek. If only she could love Tom instead of hate him, admire him instead of fear him. If only the job he was doing so well, merited that well-doing! If only her own sense of humor would stop telling herself fairy tales and think of an intelligent plan of escape.

Yet, how could she think of escape when she had no idea where they were going, when they would arrive, what was to be done with her at any time! Every turn of the motor was carrying her farther and farther from friends and help.

Then her mind turned up a new hope. They were following the Ladybird. Presumably Mr. Goodwin, and maybe Dennis, were aboard. There would be a showing down somewhere. She would be in exactly the right position to do them the most good. A warning of some kind—some chance would surely present itself.

The storm lept at the little boat, lifting it high, then dashing it down again. Right now, she told herself wryly, the storm itself had taken command. It was going to be up to Tom and his seamanship—if they survived this night at all!

FUNNY BUSINESS

"Hey, Joe, how do you feel when temptation hits you?"

Spring Conditioning that's TAILORED TO YOUR CAR!

Come in Now for a FREE Inspection by Authorized Factory-Trained Mechanics that Will Show Exactly what Attention YOUR Car Needs.

WANT LONGER TIRE LIFE? When switching tires, do you remember the spare? If you'll let us switch your tires, working the spare in where it can best be used, each tire out of the five you have will be on the road only four-fifths as much as usual. Net result: Longer life from the same full set.

GOOD BRAKES MEAN SAFETY PLUS. Brakes ought to be kept in proper adjustment for safety reasons alone. Beyond that, brakes that are "set" can also result in unnecessarily increased tire wear. For best results, let Buick men adjust your Buick brakes to Buick factory specifications.

LICK-AND-A-PROMISE spring conditioning won't do this year, mister!

You've got something more important to think about than just changing oil and grease—you've got a whole car that will have to see you through the duration, and you can't afford to overlook any part of it.

That's why Buick spring service is tailored to your own particular car.

We change oil and grease in the regular way, of course—we check batteries, cooling systems, wheel alignment and other routine matters.

Your whole car lasts longer when it is conditioned as a unit—especially when trained Buick specialists do the job.

So we write your spring conditioning ticket to fit your car's needs—not to make up a ready-made "package" according to average requirements.

The cost is no higher than for a comparably good job anywhere else. It's actually lower in the long run, because it pays to have a job done right.

Drop in for a FREE check-up by our authorized factory-trained mechanics and let us detail the service your car should have this spring.

ARMY PLANE CRASHES NEAR CONNELLSVILLE

Connellsville, Feb. 27—(AP)—A single-engine army plane crashed in Skullton hollow yesterday, killing its pilot, identified from papers in his possession as Second Lieut. Robert Jessup of Lindsay, Calif.

The ship came down on the Grant Johnson farm, 12 miles southeast of here. Farmers who had seen the plane do a "flip-flop" searched two hours before finding the wreckage in snow seven to nine inches deep. They said the pilot apparently had switched off the ignition before the crash.

THREE PHILADELPHIA TOTS KILLED AT PLAY

Philadelphia, Feb. 27—(AP)—Accidents while at play killed three Philadelphia area children yesterday.

Five-year old William M. Schwartz was struck by a Reading railroad train near his home while playing cowboys and Indians.

Talley Jay Stadlerman, four, drowned when he broke through the ice in a quarry at Chester.

William McCann, Jr., 8, was killed in a fall from a railroad boxcar.

DEATH HOUSE LOSES AN UNWELCOME GUEST

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 27—(AP)—The Sing Sing prison death house lost one of its most unwelcome guests last night when George Joseph Cvek, scorned even by fellow condemned men, was electrocuted for strangling to death a Bronx housewife.

The 24-year-old hunch-back, who was convicted of slaying Mrs. Catherine Pappas, 34, and who admitted raping or robbing at least 14 women in various eastern cities, smiled when he entered the execution chamber at 11:01 o'clock (EWT). Three minutes later he was dead.

Defiant to the last, he had startled Warden Robert Kirby by remarking "it's a nice day," and the warden thought for a moment that Cvek, a native of Harrisburg, Pa., had repented until the doomed man added with a smirk: "For some people."

WAR BULLETINS

London, Feb. 27—(AP)—Kiel haven of one of Germany's fugitive 26,000-ton battleships, was bombed by the RAF last night for the second successive night and fires were started among dockyards and shipbuilding works, an air ministry communique announced today. Three British planes failed to return.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) Feb. 27 (AP)—DNE acknowledged today that the RAF caused considerable damage at some points in forays along the German coast last night.

Corpus Christi, Tex. Feb. 27—(AP)—Four men were killed and a fifth narrowly escaped death today when a patrol bomber from the naval air station crashed into Corpus Christi Bay. The naval board of investigation sought to determine the cause of the crash.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 27—(AP)—Argentina's foreign policy faces what amounts to a plebiscite in next Sunday's congressional elections after a restricted "sage campaign" which produced an inconclusive saber duel and in which police muzzled all references to this country's maintenance of relations with the Axis.

Montreal, Feb. 27—(AP)—The Norwegian legation here said today it had learned that the Germans have undertaken extensive military preparations along the coast of Norway because they fear an Allied invasion there.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 27—(AP)—The U. S. Conciliation Service made new attempts today to effect quick settlement of this steel center's first work stoppage since Pearl Harbor, affecting about 1,000 employees of the Crucible Steel Company's Laclede plant who were turning out vital war materials.
